

Summary

During July, the share price of The Emerging World Fund (EWF) rose 0.74%, net of fees, whilst its benchmark index, the dollar-adjusted S&P Emerging Frontier Super Composite Net Total Return Broad Market Index (S&P Super BMI), rose 0.38%. Additionally, and for comparative purposes only, the MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index (MSCI EM Index) fell 0.25% over the period. The NAV performances and discount movements of the Fund's underlying holdings as well as country allocation versus the benchmark index were favourable. Since its inception in September 1998, the Fund has outperformed its benchmark index on an annualised basis by 0.84 of a percentage point, and outperformed the MSCI EM Index on an annualised basis by 1.31 percentage points, net of fees. Please note attribution in the table below is shown gross of fees, whilst performance reported in the narrative above and chart below is net of fees.

EWF Performance* Compared to the S&P Super Composite Net Total Return BMI and MSCI EM Index (US$) Since Inception (Rebased from inception, where 15th September 1998 = 100)

*Performance figures are net returns. Historical figures are based on an investment management fee of 1% per annum; as of 7 February 2022, the IM Fee is 0.95% per annum.

The benchmark was changed from the S&P Emerging BMI Plus on January 1, 2009 to better reflect the investment strategy of the Fund. The S&P Emerging BMI Plus was the successor index to the S&P/IFC Global Composite Index, the benchmark for the Fund prior to September 1, 2008, which has been discontinued. Benchmark changes have not been applied retroactively and therefore historical benchmark performance is a blend of the BMI and IFC indices. The MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index (MSCI EM Index) is shown for comparative purposes. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Investment Commentary

Economic Overview* (Macroeconomics)

Global equity markets, as measured by the MSCI ACWI Net TR Index, returned 7% in US dollar terms in July, as hopes that the Fed may pivot away from its aggressive tightening cycle, and thereby reduce the risk or severity of a recession, sparked a market rally. The US Fed raised rates by 75 basis points for the second consecutive month in July, marking its fastest monetary tightening cycle in 40 years. But as Chairman Powell also commented that a slowdown in the pace of rate increases would likely become appropriate and as data showed that US GDP contracted in Q2 for a second consecutive quarter, the market pared back its expectations for further tightening.

Nonetheless, emerging markets (EM) underperformed developed market (DM) equities on account of the weakness in China's equity market. EM equities, as measured by the MSCI EM Net TR Index fell by 0.3%, while DM equities (MSCI World Net TR Index) returned 7.9%.

Chinese equities struggled in July on the back of on-going COVID-19 restrictions, growing problems in the property market and signs of a renewed crackdown on the information technology sector. Reflecting the impact of restrictions, GDP growth slowed sharply from 4.8% yoy in Q1 to 0.4% yoy in Q2, surprising on the downside. Against the soft economic backdrop, markets were disappointed by the lack of new policy stimulus at the Politburo meeting on July 28. Meanwhile, home-buyers in China have boycotted mortgage payments on unfinished projects, which raises the risk of contagion to China's banking sector. The MSCI China Index fell by 9.5% in US dollar terms in July, making it the worst performer in EM.

At the other end of the spectrum, the MSCI India Index returned 9.3% in US dollar terms, the second strongest EM equity market after Chile. The rally in Indian equities was fairly broad-based, with all sectors aside from energy gaining on the month. Foreign institutional investors became buyers of Indian equities for the first time in nine months. Strong monthly performance was also recorded in Saudi Arabia, South Korea and Brazil, with their MSCI Indices rising by 5.9%, 5.8% and 5.5% in US dollar terms, respectively, in July.

Portfolio Commentary* (Investment Management)

In July, emerging markets generalist exposure was adjusted as we purchased shares of JPMorgan Emerging Markets Investment Trust and Templeton Emerging Markets Investment Trust at average discounts of 11.5% and 13.5%, respectively, whilst shares of Abrdn Emerging Markets Equity Income Fund Inc were sold at an average discount of 9.5%.

In Asia, regional exposure was adjusted as shares of Schroder Asia Pacific Fund were purchased at discounts as wide as 11.5%, whilst shares of Invesco Asia Trust and Scottish Oriental Smaller Companies Trust were sold at average discounts of 11.5% and 10.5%, respectively. Exposure to China was adjusted as shares of Naspers were sold, whilst shares of Prosus were purchased given narrowing of the discount between the two. Exposure to South Korea was decreased as shares of Weiss Korea Opportunity Fund were sold at an average discount of 1%.

In Eastern Europe, Russian exposure was reduced as shares of JPMorgan Russian Securities were sold.

In South Africa, exposure was reduced as shares of Remgro were sold at an average discount of 41.5%.

Fund Objective & Background

The objective of The Emerging World Fund (EWF) is to invest for capital growth in a portfolio of closed-end funds whose investment policy is directed mainly towards emerging markets. This approach allows great flexibility in asset allocation, a wider diversification of investments, participation in the performances of high quality fund managers and potentially enhanced performance when the discounts to net asset value at which closed-end funds tend to trade narrows. EWF is a sub-fund of The World Markets Umbrella Fund plc. ♦

Portfolio Data

Fund Size	US$136.44m
Number of Shares in Issue	1,487,652.401
Number of Portfolio Holdings	46
Size Weighted Portfolio Discount of closed-end funds	17.20%
Size Weighted Average Life of Portfolio	2.07 years

Excluding 52.65% of the portfolio with unlimited life.

*Size Weighted Portfolio Discount represents the see-through discount of the underlying closed-end funds. It is calculated by multiplying the percentage position sizes of the underlying closed-end funds by their respective discounts. These calculations are then added together to determine the size weighted portfolio discount for the portfolio. The size weighted portfolio discount is a measure of value within the portfolio, with a higher value representing wider discounts, and accordingly more value within the portfolio.

Some of the closed-end funds have either fixed maturities or continuation votes that allow shareholders to vote on a restructuring of the underlying closed-end fund. The size weighted portfolio life is calculated by taking the percentage position sizes of the relevant holdings on the portfolio and multiplying them by their respective time periods remaining to the corporate event. These calculations are then added together to determine the minimum size weighted portfolio life for the portfolio. A lower size weighted portfolio life is beneficial for the portfolio as it may equate to potentially more corporate activity in the near term.

Country Allocation (+0.05%)

(Relative performance is in US dollar terms and references the country's S&P Super BMI component or an appropriate market index versus the S&P Super BMI composite index)

Country allocation was slightly positive, with outperformance resulting from the Fund's underweight position to China (which contributed 46 basis points to performance) as its index underperformed the composite index. An overweight position to India (+9 bps) also contributed outperformance as its index outperformed.

However, the Fund's underweight position to Saudi Arabia (-10 bps) contributed underperformance as its index outperformed.

Portfolio Holding NAV (+0.09%)

(Performances are quoted in US dollar terms against their respective S&P Super BMI component, or for out-of-benchmark exposure, against a comparable country or regional index)

NAV performances were slightly positive as the NAVs of Abrdn Asia Focus (+14 bps) and Morgan Stanley China A-Share Fund Inc (+11 bps) outperformed their indices by 4.3 and 3.9 percentage points, respectively. The NAV of Abrdn Asia Focus outperformed due to the fund's Asian small-cap strategy, with Asian small-cap stocks outperforming large-cap stocks. From a country perspective, the underweight position to and stock selection within China contributed the most to performance. Morgan Stanley China A-Share Fund Inc's NAV outperformed due to the A-share market, as well as favourable stock selection within the industrial sector.

Outperformance was partly countered by JPMorgan Indian Investment Trust (-9 bps) as its NAV underperformed its index by 2 percentage points due to stock selection in the financial sector, as well as an underweight position to and stock selection within the materials sector; stock detractors included overweight positions to HDFC Bank and Ambuja Cements.

Discount Movements (+0.30%)

(Performances are quoted in US dollar terms unless specified otherwise)

Discount movements were positive as the discounts of Prosus (+34 bps), VinaCapital Vietnam Opportunity Fund (+18 bps), and Asia Dragon Trust (+13 bps) narrowed by 7.1, 4.2, and 2.5 percentage points, respectively. The discount of Prosus continued to narrow as the Board repurchased shares in the market. VinaCapital Vietnam Opportunity Fund's discount narrowed as investors looked to increase exposure to Vietnam. The discount of Asia Dragon Trust narrowed from recent levels toward its long-term average.

Conversely, Samsung C&T (-17 bps) contributed underperformance as its discount widened by 3.3 percentage points after management failed to provide an update on initiatives to improve shareholder returns despite the strong Q2 2022 results.

Risk Profile

- There is no capital guarantee or protection on the value of the Fund. Investors can lose all capital invested in the Fund.
- Some emerging markets in which the Fund invests may have less developed political, economic and legal systems. Such markets may carry a higher than average risk to investment and may lead to large fluctuations in the value of the Fund.
- The Investment Manager does not engage in currency hedging. Changes in currency exchange rates may therefore adversely affect the value of your investment.
- During difficult market conditions, some of the Fund's assets may become difficult to accurately value or to sell at a desired price.
- The Fund may invest in warrants. Warrants carry a degree of risk significantly higher than the underlying company shares due to their leveraged nature and therefore have higher volatility.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance. The value of investments and any income is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up and may be affected by exchange rate fluctuations. This means that an investor may not get back the amount invested. Index returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains and unlike fund returns do not reflect fees or expenses. The indices are unmanaged and cannot be invested directly. All information expressed in USD. All data: Bloomberg, BNY Mellon, CLIM, S&P, MSCI.
