

Summary

During March, the share price of The Emerging World Fund (EWF) rose 1.89%, net of fees, compared to a 1.76% rise in its benchmark index, the sterling-adjusted S&P Emerging Frontier Super Composite Net Total Return Broad Market Index (S&P Super BMI). Additionally, and for comparative purposes only, the sterling-adjusted MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index (MSCI EM Index) rose 2.34% over the month. Since its inception in September 1998, the Fund has outperformed its benchmark index on an annualised basis by 0.15 of a percentage point and outperformed the MSCI EM Index on an annualised basis by 0.70 of a percentage point, net of fees.

EWF Performance* Compared to the S&P Super BMI and MSCI EM Index (£) Since Inception (Rebased from inception, where 15th September 1998 = 100)

* Historical net of fees performance is based on an investment management fee of 1.5% per annum; as of 7 February 2022, the investment management fee is 1.45%. Returns are quoted in GBP for the convenience of shareholders, however the base currency of the Fund is USD.

The benchmark was changed from the S&P Emerging BMI Plus on January 1, 2009 to better reflect the investment strategy of the Fund. The S&P Emerging BMI Plus was the successor index to the S&P/IFC Global Composite Index, the benchmark for the Fund prior to September 1, 2008, which has been discontinued. Benchmark changes have not been applied retroactively and therefore historical benchmark performance is a blend of the BMI and IFC indices. The MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index (MSCI EM Index) is shown for comparative purposes. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Portfolio Data

Fund Size	£79.9m
Number of Shares in Issue	1,022,101.431
Number of Portfolio Holdings	38
Size Weighted Portfolio Discount of closed-end funds	18.91%*
Size Weighted Average Life of Portfolio	1.88 years

Excluding 47.85% of the portfolio with unlimited life.

* Size Weighted Portfolio Discount represents the see-through discount of the underlying closed-end funds. It is calculated by multiplying the percentage position sizes of the underlying closed-end funds by their respective discounts. These calculations are then added together to determine the size weighted portfolio discount for the portfolio. The size weighted portfolio discount is a measure of value within the portfolio, with a higher value representing wider discounts, and accordingly more value within the portfolio.

Some of the closed-end funds have either fixed maturities or continuation votes that allow shareholders to vote on a restructuring of the underlying closed-end fund. The size weighted portfolio life is calculated by taking the percentage position sizes of the relevant holdings on the portfolio and multiplying them by their respective time periods remaining to the corporate event. These calculations are then added together to determine the minimum size weighted portfolio life for the portfolio. A lower size weighted portfolio life is beneficial for the portfolio as it may equate to potentially more corporate activity in the near term.

Investment Commentary

Economic Overview* (Macroeconomics)

Signs that economic activity is firming and inflation edging up led markets to pare back rate cut expectations for this year. Indeed, the US CPI beat consensus estimates for the third consecutive month, while the global manufacturing PMI is back in expansionary territory. Quarterly projections published at the FOMC March meeting showed the median dot for 2024 unchanged (three rate cuts), but there was a hawkish shift in the distribution higher. As such, the futures market is now fully pricing in two rate cuts by December, a shift down from three at the start of the month. The inverted yield curve marginally widened as the US Treasury 2-year was flat, and the 10-year yield fell by 5 bps. The growing likelihood of a soft landing propped up global equities, with the MSCI ACWI Net TR Index increasing by 3.1% over the month.

Emerging market (EM) equities (as measured by the MSCI EM Net TR Index) returned 2.5%, underperforming developed market (DM) equities (as measured by the MSCI World Net TR Index) by 0.7 of a percentage point. The US dollar Index (DXY) gained 0.3%, while the MSCI EM Currency Index dropped by 0.2%. The Bloomberg Commodity TR Index rose by 3.3% as the prospect of easier Fed policy and tighter supply drove prices higher across the commodity complex. The 9.1% and 10% increase in gold and silver prices, respectively, left precious metals as the best-performing subindex (+8.6%). The strength in commodities lifted the MSCI indices for Peru and Colombia by 10.4% and 10.2% in US dollar terms, respectively, making them the top EM performers.

Optimism about Artificial Intelligence (AI) drove EM tech-concentrated markets in March. Information Technology (+8%) was the strongest EM sector. The MSCI Taiwan Index and MSCI South Korea Index gained 7.9% and 5.2% in US dollar terms respectively. Stocks in South Korea were also supported by the government-led “Corporate Value-Up” programme. In Asia, the MSCI China Index returned 0.9% in US dollar terms as February’s market rally lost steam in response to growing US-China tensions. US lawmakers introduced more bills that would limit US investment in China.

The weakest market in EM was Egypt, where the MSCI Index fell by 32.9% in US dollar terms after the central bank devalued the pound and hiked rates by 600 bps following an expansion to its IMF deal. Another soft spot was the Gulf markets, despite higher oil prices. The MSCI Indices for Qatar, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait fell by 3.5%, 1% and 0.9% in US dollar terms respectively. The EMEA region underperformed EM by 2.3 percentage points.

Figures provided in the Economic Overview are as of 31 March 2024.

Portfolio Commentary* (Investment Management)

In March, emerging markets generalist exposure was increased as we purchased shares of abrdn Emerging Markets Equity Income Fund Inc, JPMorgan Global Emerging Markets Income Trust and Templeton Emerging Markets Investment Trust at discounts ranging from 12.5% to 16%. Exposure to frontier and smaller emerging markets was increased as we purchased shares of BlackRock Frontiers Investment Trust at a 9.5% discount.

In Asia, generalist exposure was increased as we purchased shares of abrdn Asian Income Fund and Schroder AsiaPacific Fund at discounts ranging from 13% to 14%. Exposure to China was increased as shares of Fidelity China Special Situations were purchased at an average discount of 10%. Exposure to South Korea was reduced as shares Samsung C&T and Korea Fund Inc were sold at discounts averaging 58% and 13%, respectively, following a period of strong price performance and discount narrowing. Exposure to Taiwan was reduced as shares of Taiwan Fund Inc were sold at an 18% discount following strong NAV performance. Exposure to India was decreased as shares of abrdn New India Investment Trust, JPMorgan Indian Investment Trust and Morgan Stanley India Investment Fund Inc were sold at discounts ranging from 18% to 19%.

In Latin America, exposure to Mexico was increased as we purchased shares of Mexico Fund Inc at an 18.5% discount.

In Africa, exposure to South Africa was decreased as we sold shares of Remgro at a 45% discount.

Fund Objective & Background

The objective of The Emerging World Fund (EWF) is to invest for capital growth in a portfolio of closed-end funds whose investment policy is directed mainly towards emerging markets. This approach allows great flexibility in asset allocation, a wider diversification of investments, participation in the performances of high quality fund managers and potentially enhanced performance when the discounts to net asset value at which closed-end funds tend to trade narrows. EWF is a sub-fund of The World Markets Umbrella Fund plc. ◆

Risk Profile

- There is no capital guarantee or protection on the value of the Fund. Investors can lose all capital invested in the Fund.
- Some emerging markets in which the Fund invests may have less developed political, economic and legal systems. Such markets may carry a higher than average risk to investment and may lead to large fluctuations in the value of the Fund.
- The Investment Manager does not engage in currency hedging. Changes in currency exchange rates may therefore adversely affect the value of your investment.
- During difficult market conditions, some of the Fund's assets may become difficult to accurately value or to sell at a desired price.
- The Fund may invest in warrants. Warrants carry a degree of risk significantly higher than the underlying company shares due to their leveraged nature and therefore have higher volatility.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance. The value of investments and any income is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up and may be affected by exchange rate fluctuations. This means that an investor may not get back the amount invested. Index returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains and unlike fund returns do not reflect fees or expenses.

The indices are unmanaged and cannot be invested directly.
