The Emerging World Fund (Retail)

November 2024 Month-End Report

Summary

During November, the share price of The Emerging World Fund (EWF) fell 0.89%, net of fees, compared to a 1.83% fall in its benchmark index, the sterling-adjusted S&P Emerging Frontier Super Composite Net Total Return Broad Market Index (S&P Super BMI). Additionally, and for comparative purposes only, the sterling-adjusted MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index (MSCI EM Index) fell 2.49% over the month. Since its inception in September 1998, the Fund has outperformed its benchmark index on an annualised basis by 0.04 of a percentage point and outperformed the MSCI EM Index on an annualised basis by 0.61 of a percentage point, net of fees.

EWF Performance* Compared to the S&P Super BMI and MSCI EM Index (£) Since Inception (Rebased from inception, where 15th September 1998 = 100)

*Historical net of fees performance is based on an investment management fee of 1.5% per annum; as of 7 February 2022, the investment management fee is 1.45%. Returns are quoted in GBP for the convenience of shareholders, however the base currency of the Fund is USD.

The benchmark was changed from the S&P Emerging BMI Plus on January 1, 2009 to better reflect the investment strategy of the Fund. The S&P Emerging BMI Plus was the successor index to the S&P/IFC Global Composite Index, the benchmark for the Fund prior to September 1, 2008, which has been discontinued. Benchmark changes have not been applied retroactively and therefore historical benchmark performance is a blend of the BMI and IFC indices. The MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index (MSCI EM Index) is shown for comparative purposes. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Portfolio Data

Fund Size	£71.40m
Number of Shares in Issue	885,627.355
Number of Portfolio Holdings	40
Size Weighted Portfolio Discount of closed-end funds	18.28%*
Size Weighted Average Life of Portfolio	2.15 years

Excluding 47.46% of the portfolio with unlimited life.

* Size Weighted Portfolio Discount represents the see-through discount of the underlying closed-end funds. It is calculated by multiplying the percentage position sizes of the underlying closed-end funds by their respective discounts. These calculations are then added together to determine the size weighted portfolio discount for the portfolio. The size weighted portfolio discount is a measure of value within the portfolio, with a higher value representing wider discounts, and accordingly more value within the portfolio.

Some of the closed-end funds have either fixed maturities or continuation votes that allow shareholders to vote on a restructuring of the underlying closed-end fund. The size weighted portfolio life is calculated by taking the percentage position sizes of the relevant holdings on the portfolio and multiplying them by their respective time periods remaining to the corporate event. These calculations are then added together to determine the minimum size weighted portfolio life for the portfolio. A lower size weighted portfolio life is beneficial for the portfolio as it may equate to potentially more corporate activity in the near term.

Investment Commentary

Economic Overview* (Macroeconomics)

Global equities, led by the US, reacted strongly to President Trump winning the US presidential election at the start of November, having run on a platform of higher tariffs, deregulation, tax cuts and deporting illegal immigrants. Canada and Mexico were threatened with 25% tariffs on all exports, along with the suggestion of an additional 10% on existing tariffs on China. The inflationary nature of the President-elect’s policies led the market to price out one Fed rate cut by the end of the month. The 2-year and 10-year US Treasury yields fell by 2 basis points (bps) and 12 bps, respectively. The Bloomberg Commodity TR Index was flat (+0.4%) as gains in energy (+3.7%) and agriculture (+1.9%) were offset by losses in precious (-3.8%) and industrial metals (-1.2%). The rise in energy prices reflected the rally in natural gas prices following US sanctions on Gazprombank and forecasts of cold weather in the Northern Hemisphere.

The US election result and the prospects of tariffs weighed on emerging markets (EM) equities (as measure by the MSCI EM Net TR Index), which fell by 3.6% in US dollar terms, underperforming developed markets (DM) equities (as measured by the MSCI World Net TR Index) by 8.2 percentage points. Adding to the headwinds faced by EM, the US dollar (DXY) gained 1.7%, while the MSCI EM Currency Index fell by 0.9%.

The weakest major EM was the MSCI Brazil Index, which fell by 7.1%, as new fiscal measures disappointed by not being seen as tough enough to address the country’s growing budget deficit. The Brazilian real depreciated by 3.1%. Combined with drops in Peru (-3.1%), Mexico (-3.1%) and Chile (-1.6%), the Latin America region underperformed the EM aggregate by 1.9 percentage points.

Weakness was also widespread across EM Asia, with declines in US dollar terms in the Philippines (-8.2%), Indonesia (-7.9%), South Korea (-5.7%), Thailand (-4.5%) and Taiwan (-4.5%). The MSCI China Index dropped by 4.4% in US dollar terms as the equity market was impacted by both the risk of US tariffs and an underwhelming National People’s Congress, where the absence of consumption-based stimulus dampened sentiment.

In contrast, the MSCI Turkey Index rose by 7.3% in US dollar terms as market expectations for a December rate cut grew following a dovish statement at the November meeting. Following Turkey were Hungary (+3.4%), the Czech Republic (+2.7%) and the UAE (+1.8%), leaving the EMEA (Europe, the Middle East and Africa) region to outperform the EM aggregate by 1.9 percentage points.

Fund Objective & Background

The objective of The Emerging World Fund (EWF) is to invest for capital growth in a portfolio of closed-end funds whose investment policy is directed mainly towards emerging markets. This approach allows great flexibility in asset allocation, a wider diversification of investments, participation in the performances of high quality fund managers and potentially enhanced performance when the discounts to net asset value at which closed-end funds tend to trade narrows. EWF is a sub-fund of The World Markets Umbrella Fund plc. ♦

Risk Profile

- There is no capital guarantee or protection on the value of the Fund. Investors can lose all capital invested in the Fund.
- Some emerging markets in which the Fund invests may have less developed political, economic and legal systems. Such markets may carry a higher than average risk to investment and may lead to large fluctuations in the value of the Fund.
- The Investment Manager does not engage in currency hedging. Changes in currency exchange rates may therefore adversely affect the value of your investment.
- During difficult market conditions, some of the Fund's assets may become difficult to accurately value or to sell at a desired price.
- The Fund may invest in warrants. Warrants carry a degree of risk significantly higher than the underlying company shares due to their leveraged nature and therefore have higher volatility.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance. The value of investments and any income is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up and may be affected by exchange rate fluctuations. This means that an investor may not get back the amount invested. Index returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains and unlike fund returns do not reflect fees or expenses.

The indices are unmanaged and cannot be invested directly.
